6. (a) Any officer, duly appointed and authorized for the purpose, may, at all reasonable times, in accordance with this section, and upon production of the necessary authority, if demanded, enter upon any building or premises in the RM that is boarded or appears to be vacant for the purpose of determining:

- (i) whether the building is vacant; and
- (ii) whether the building complies with this by-law.

(b) Where the officer wishes to undertake an inspection, the officer shall first give reasonable notice to the owner or occupier of the land or building or other structure to be entered to carry out the inspection, remedy, enforcement or action, such notice being in writing and stating a date and time for the inspection which shall not be less than forty-eight (48) hours from the date that the notice is delivered to the owner or occupier of the land or building or other structure to be inspected. In the event that the owner or occupier refuses to accept delivery of the notice, or cannot be located, reasonable notice shall be deemed to have been given provided that the Designated Officer posts a copy of the notice by nailing it to the door, or posting a sign at any normally used entrance to the land, building or other structure to be entered by the Designated Officer to carry out the inspection, remedy, enforcement or action.

7. (a) If as a result of the inspection of any vacant dwelling or non-residential building, an inspector is satisfied that the vacant dwelling or non-residential building does not comply to the standards set forth in Schedule "A" to this by-law, he may make an Order to Maintain, in a form as set out in Schedule "C" hereto and, a copy of which shall be served on the owner by personal service or by certified or registered mail mailed to him at his address as shown on the latest assessment roll of the municipality. When service cannot be effected either by personal service or by certified or registered mail, then such Order and/or placard may be posted on the property subject to the Order.

(b) If, upon attempt to effect service of an Order to Maintain hereunder an officer learns the owner of the property is deceased then the Order shall be served upon the executor, administrator, successor or assignee of the deceased. 10. The Bylaw Enforcement Officer may postpone the last day when a non-conformance must be corrected as specified in the Order to Maintain only upon the owner showing that he is making reasonable efforts to correct the non-conformance, but that full correction cannot be completed within the time provided because of technical difficulties, inability to obtain necessary materials or labour, or inability to gain access to the building unit wherein the non-conformance occurs. Any postponement of the last day for compliance does not extend the initial 14 day period for appealing the Order however, the owner does have 7 days from the date the postponement was granted to appeal the postponement.

11. Except in the case of an immediately dangerous non-conformance, the owner, or a person authorized in writing by him to act on his behalf, may appeal any provision of an order issued under Subsection 7.
